

Fraud and Embezzlement Prevention

Many companies are victims of fraud and embezzlement, especially in times of economic downturn— sometimes to the tune of six or seven figures. Find out the simple safeguards your company can employ to significantly minimize the opportunity for fraud and embezzlement to occur in your organization

Jeff Dieleman, CPA, has over 15 years of public accounting experience serving Northwest companies. He serves as a lead audit partner and is the Yakima Office Food Processing and Agriculture Group practice leader. He manages and participates in financial statement audits, with related recommendations for cost savings and efficiency improvements. His experience includes: participation in all phases of audits, including employee benefit plan audits, and assistance with training of clients' accounting staff as well as broad experience consulting with clients on fraud and embezzlement prevention and strengthening internal controls. Jeff can be contacted at jeff.dieleman@mossadams.com, or 509-834-2451.